

HARISH RAM GUBENDRAN

Supply Chain & Operations Graduate | MSc International Business Management

+44 07768298939 | harishramgubendran@gmail.com | www.linkedin.com/in/harish-ram-gubendran-416413298 | Oxford, UK | Open to GCC Relocation

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Supply chain and operations graduate with an MSc in International Business Management from Oxford Brookes University, and practical experience in inventory management, stock replenishment, data analysis and retail operations. Demonstrated ability to drive measurable commercial results — including a 28% revenue increase through data-led strategies at a manufacturing firm in India. Experienced in cross-functional coordination across production, procurement, and sales teams. Skilled at Excel-based forecasting, KPI monitoring, and process optimisation in fast-paced environments. Seeking opportunities supply chain, logistics and operations in the GCC and open to relocate.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- Inventory Control & Replenishment
- KPI Monitoring & Reporting
- Sales Operations & Forecasting
- Demand Forecasting & Planning
- Process Optimisation
- Commercial & Market Analysis
- Supply Chain Operations
- Cross-functional Coordination
- Data-Driven Decision Making

WORK EXPERIENCE

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Sales Operations Associate   Primark, Oxford, UK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Jun 2025 – Present  |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Monitor in-store inventory operations with a focus on stock accuracy and product availability.</li><li>Support stock replenishment activities and efficient movement of products between the stockroom and the shopfloor.</li><li>Contribute to operational reporting and daily performance tracking, working with team members to support day to day management decisions.</li><li>Maintain safe and organised shop floor and stockroom operations, while following company procedures and maintaining operational standards.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                     |
| Retail Sales Associate   TK Maxx, Oxford, UK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Nov 2024 – Jun 2025 |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Supported stockroom and shop floor operations, maintaining stock accuracy and ensuring products were available for customers.</li><li>Assisted with stock replenishment, product movements and returns while maintaining organised stockroom operations.</li><li>Worked effectively in a high-volume retail environment, prioritising daily tasks and supporting the team to maintain smooth operations.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                     |
| Business Development Consultant   Sri Guberar Knit Fab, Tamil Nadu, India                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Jan 2022 – Sep 2023 |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Achieved a 28% increase in company revenue within three months by identifying new market opportunities, optimising product positioning, and executing targeted commercial strategies.</li><li>Built and maintained Excel-based sales tracking and demand forecasting models, comparing actual performance against targets and preparing reports to support procurement and production planning.</li><li>Conducted sales trend analysis and gap assessments to identify underperforming segments, using sales and demand insights to support commercial decisions.</li><li>Coordinated with production, procurement and sales teams to align operational activities, resolve issues and improve workflow efficiency.</li><li>Evaluated product sourcing options and contributed to commercial planning decisions within a textile manufacturing environment.</li></ul> |                     |

EDUCATION

|                                                                                                        |             |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| MSc International Business Management with Supply Chain   Oxford Brookes University, Oxford, UK | 2023 – 2024 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|

Selected Projects

- Dissertation: Analysed how AI and emerging technologies improve supply chain sustainability, operational efficiency, and demand management within England's football industry.

- Consultancy Project: Delivered operational improvement strategies for Oxford Brookes Estate Campus Services, identifying inefficiencies and recommended based on analysis.

Bachelor of Commerce | Kumaraguru College of Liberal Arts & Science, Tamil Nadu, India

2019 – 2022

Academic Projects

- Automobile Industry Analysis: Analysed demand shifts, supply disruptions and strategic business responses across the pre and post covid periods.

TECHNICAL SKILLS & TOOLS

---

Data & Reporting: Microsoft Excel (Pivot Tables, VLOOKUP, forecasting models, dashboards, trend analysis), Google Analytics

Microsoft Office: Word and PowerPoint

Supply Chain Tools: Inventory tracking systems, demand forecasting, stock replenishment planning, KPI reporting

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

---

- Generated 28% revenue growth within 3 months through data-led demand strategies and sales forecasting.
- Academic Excellence Award – Higher Achiever in Business Studies (2018–2019).
- Completed MSc-level dissertation on AI-driven supply chain optimisation, demonstrating applied research capability in a commercially relevant domain.

LANGUAGES

---

- English – C1 (Professional)
- German – A1
- Tamil (Native)